MAUA BANK,

CALLE CANGALLO, Nos 101—103

The Offices of this Bank having been removed to the above spacious building, in order to suit the increasing flow of business, the public is informed that the following transactions are carried on in currency and specie in this Bank:—

First—Bills and obligations with good signatures are discounted on conventional terms.

Second—Money is advanced on mercantile and other securities approved of by the Manager.

Third—Accounts current are opened with Merchants or other parties who may prefer depositing colored and transferable securities, against which they may draw up to an amount previously convened under conditions established for such class of operations.

Fourth—Money is received in account current, bearing interest from day of deposit, which is accumulated in favor of the parties every three months, the depositors being allowed to retire at any time, by means of cheques, part or the full amount at their wish, save when the quantity exceeds three hundred doubloons or one hundred thousand dollars currency, in which case forty-eight hours' previous notic. is required to be given at the Treasury of the Bank.

Fifth—Bills or letters of credit are drawn and taken on Montevideo, Rosario, Bs. Fé, Salto Oriental, Paysandu, Rio Janeiro, and other places in the Brazils, England and France, as also on other places, of which notice will be given hereafter.

Finally, the Bank undertakes and executes all legitimate transactions within the orbit of banking operations.

The establishment is always open from 9 a.m. till 4 p.m.

Royal Insurance Company.

FIRE AND LIFE.

CAPITAL TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

This important company, in many respects the greatest of its kind in the present age, has appointed an agency in this city. The head-offices are in London and Liverpool with branches in Dublin, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Manchester, Bristol, Birmingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Newcastle, Southampton, Montreal, Toronto and other cities.

The ROYAL is remarkable; for the promptitude and liberality of its settlements: for the largest life bonuses (£2 per cent per annum) ever continuously declared during 15 years by any Co.; for the enormous extent of its transactions, showing £ 00 000 in new life assurances for 1862, and a Fire revenue of £300,000 per annum; for its security, which has given rise to the proverb "as safe as the Royal;" for the accumulated funds per head, over one million, sterling; for its annual income, over half-a-million sterling; and for the correct calculation of its mortality tables. Hence the English press of all countries, including over 90 leading papers, speaks in the highest terms of this company.

The report for 1863 shows that all the property of the Co. amounting to £816,070 is real and substantial property; the amount now exceeds a-million sterling. The increase, during 14 years, on Fire business was 900 per cent, and on Life 1350 per cent.

MESSRS. H. A. GREEN AND Co. are authorised to issue policies for Fire and Life to a very large amount, at moderate premiums, the Co. being anxious to extend its foreign business, which already shows an annual revenue of £200,000. Life claims can be settled without reference to England. For further particulars please apply to

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1864.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Our colleagues complain that things are very dull. Flores is quiet before Salto. The Brazilians won't come on. The Paraguayan steamer is non est inventus. About town there is nothing new, and yet the newspapers must be filled. Luckily, the Pavon arrived yesterday, and brought down rather stirring news. The gold discoveries in San Juan are still the universal theme in the provinces, and new veins are found almost daily. In Catamarca there has been a small revolution; nobody killed, but a great commotion. The Indians on the frontier are quiet, but in Rosario they are as troublesome as ever about the coming elections. In Parana people are on the 'qui vive' for the Paraguayans, and from Corrientes we have no advices.

The examinations will shortly come off at the University; we believe next week. It is surprising what little public attention they attract, which goes to prove the unpopularity of the institution. We understand the Governor and Ministers will attend.

The wool crop from the Fortin de Areco for this season exceeds in quantity and quality that of any previous year. The flocks, on an average estimate made by the 'jusgado,' have increased 35 per cent., and, as a general rule five sheep gave an arrobe of wool. Last year the average was 7 to the arrobe. Things are very gay in the Fortin: Sr. Gonzalez gave a grand ball, which was attended by the 'haut-ton' of the town, and business, we understand, could not be brisker.

Owing to one of our colleagues having stated that six persons died suddenly the other day in this city, from the effects of the heat, people up the rivers, and in Montevideo, think Buenos Ayres is in a most frightful state, and our exchanges teem with alarming notices about the dangers which threaten Buenos Ayres. After a most searching inquiry, we can only discover two sudden deaths during the period referred to, neither of which seems to have been caused by excessive heat: one young man, who was in the last stage of consumption, expired in the carriage whilst being removed from his house to the hospital; and the other case proceeded from intoxication. Most of the sickness which at present prevails in this city, the English doctors attribute to the tired meat and stale vegetables sold in the market. The estancia meat enterprize is paying so well, that very shortly we expect the corrals will do nothing. Any person who visits these corrals, and perceives how the unfortunate animals are kept shut up roasting in the sun all day without food or water, will be able to arrive at a pretty correct idea of the kind of meat sold in our markets.

A young Argentine named Alejandro Diaz has just returned from France in the packet, where he has been studying military tactics. The National Government we understand will at once give him active service. He is a young man of great talents.

There was no news yesterday of the missing Brazilian officers who had been sent up the River Parana about a week ago, and who, it is supposed, has been kidnapped. We have not heard the nature of his mission, but the whole business looks very suspicious.

The latest news we have from Montevideo is, that Saa is not going to incorporate with Gomes, but has marched on Salto, where he expects to unite with Flris, and drive Flores into the River Uruguay.

An American merchant has favored us with the New York "Herald," Oct. 8th, which is the latest date in town. Owing to press of matter we cannot extract from it to-day. But things looked utterly hopeless for the South, and Lincoln seemed to have a better chance of being re elected.

There is a general roar of indignation throughout the provinces against the Minister of War, and some of our colleagues not only call for Minister Gelly's removal, but that he and all his clerks and officers should be at once put in prison and tried. We are surprised thar the Minister does not feel the necessity of resigning, or that the President does not send him his congé.

Minister Paranhos has not yet arrived. Our colleagues are very busy trying to persuade their readers that he is coming to help Flores and put down the Government. President Mitre is about to send Sr. Marmol to Rio Janeyro as special agent. We suppose that what is generally believed will ultimately prove the truth, and that the Brazilian envoy, failing to obtain Argentine assistance, the invasion will be abandoned. The court party in Rio are in favor of the annexation of the Banda Oriental, but the European powers will not allow it.

Capt. Mansilla left yesterday for the interior to organise his Indian brigade and drive the savages from the public roads. We wish him the best success.

Yesterday some of our country friends called on us to say that they would most willingly supply us with samples of their wool for the Dublin Exhibition. We are fully determined that whether the Government assists us or not, Buenos Ayres must be represented at the approaching exhibition. Sr. Lezama and Mr. Newton have very beautiful samples of wool on the Bolsa, which the brokers are tired of looking at. We hope they will favor us with them, as we believe they would be more useful in Dublin than in Calle San Martin.

The Marquis de Olinda, if not seized by the Paraguayans, ought to be down on Sunday, but on Saturday the mails from Corrientes will arrive, and then all doubts will be cleared away as to how matters are up the rivers.

NEWS FROM THE PROVINCES.

ROSARIO.

The Pavon arrived yesterday with the 'Cosmopolita' and 'Ferro-carril' to Tnesday, containing important news from the Pacific and the upper provinces.

The agitation about elections continues in Rosario, though somewhat abated, and abusive letters are still the order of the day. Much disappointment was felt at the continuance of General Gelly in the War-office, as all parties clamor for his removal. An engineer arrived from Buenos Ayres, en route for the frontier, to join General Emilio Mitre, and construct a new line of forts in exposed places. The Italian legion was expected to be sent to the frontier. D. Fidel Torres has been named Alcaide of the Custom-house, to the satisfaction of the public.

Besides the colonies in the north of Sta. Fe, between Cayesta and San Javier, on the Rio Salado, a new concession is before the Provincial Government for establishing a colony between Forts Melincué and Esquina, the projectors being M. Albert and Dr. Brougnes, the latter of whom introduced a French colony into Corrientes, which was lately the subject of a claim for compensation.

The non-arrival of the Paraguay steamer caused much surprise, and the Brazilian gun-boat Beeberibe lighted fires and got up steam as if about to leave port. The Pavon will remain at Rosario next trip, to paint and clean up, the Esmeralda coming down in her stead. Mme. Mollo continues to draw crowded houses at the theatre.

The weekly report of the Central Railway, ending 26th Nov., is as follows:— The earthworks are concluded 17 miles. The works of the station at Carcarañá are advanced, but the flood of the river has prevented laying down the foundations of the bridge. The brig Mosquito is discharging her cargo, and will soon leave on her return-voyage, being chartered by the Company. The Lewes is taking in hides. The Onward has been chartered for the Uruguay. The Volante was delayed at San Nicolas by the north wind, but arrived at Rosario on Sunday with a cargo of rails. The navvies have been frequently interrupted in their works by the recent rains.

The municipality has accepted Sor. Mendanha's proposal for street-paving, the stone to be used is that of Martin Garcia. The "Cosmopolita" speaks with praise of Sor. Sauze's new model-farm at Molino del Saladillo.

REVOLUTION IN CATAMARCA.

The ultra-Liberal party made an unsuccessful revolution on the 8th of November against Governor Maubecin, which resulted in the arrest of some of the leading citizens and seizure of their properties.

On the 7th ult. a dinner was given to the Prime Minister, at which both parties, Federal and Liberal, attended; but at 2 in the morning the alarm was given that an attack had been made on the barrack. Several shots were heard, but the revolt was soon suffocated D. José Lobo is supposed to have been the instigator of the plot, and his nephew was the officer who sold the barrack-gate to the rioters. The Governor got the alarm in time, and succeeded in overpowering and arresting the ringleaders, D. Pedro Cano, Capt. Lobo, Sr. Bulacio, Carmen Gigena, Captain Castro, Lieutenant Santero (implicated in the revolt against O'Mill.)

Ramon Correa, president of the Club, is suspected, but remains at liberty: his two nephews Recalde and Molas have fled and their doors have been sealed up by the authorities. Jose Lobo walks about unmolested, although known to be the grand political intriguer of Catamarca for many years back. The origin of the revolt seems to have been an order of Governor Maubecin suspending the President of the Legislature.

On the 9th inst the Criminal Judge issued an order for the arrest of the following parties who had absconded: Lieut. Barcala, Colonel Castro, Major Ramos, Messrs. David Cano, Barrionuevo, Caliva, Caro, Iramain, Felizardo Caro, Salvatierra and Avellaneda.

The conduct of the Government is said to have been marked with moderation, Messrs. Cano, Gigena and Auguer are supposed innocent, and it is thought will soon be set at liberty.

INTERDICT IN SALTA.

The bishop and Government of Salta are at loggerheads, the former having suspended a priest, at the request of his congregation, on several scandalous charges. The Governor refused to allow the sentence of suspension, denying the bishop all authority in the matter, which has caused a serious misunderstanding, and resulted in the closing of the parish church in question. The poor people being deprived of all religious service and aid are very discontented with the Government, and the latter is severally censured by the press of the adjacent provinces.

THE CORDOVA MAILS.

The diligence arrived in Rosario on Saturday night, 25th ult. The latest dates are: San Juan 10th, Rioja 11th, Catamarca 12th, Mendoza 12th, San Luis 13th, Santiago 18th ult.

Heavy rains have fallen in the interior, and a quantity of dead cattle is seen between Cordoba and Rosario, the people being also obliged to leave their houses owing to the floods. The Mensagérias coaches were delayed by this cause, having in one day advanced only one league.

The "Liberal," of Tucuman, states that the Governor of Salta (Dr. Aguirre) is going to shoot Capt. Napoleon Uriburu for sedition, without trial by a competent tribunal, he being a Federal officer, and the court being anything but impartial. The local journal of Salta says nothing at all about the matter.

In Santiago del Estero things are going well. The Legislature has ratified the last elections. The Government has burned in liquidation the amount of $3,470 in Treasury Bills. Sig. Colombati has made a splendid organ, and put it up in the church of San Francisco. Collections are being made to rebuild the Matriz church.

General Rojo, Senator Villafañe, and Deputy Granillo arrived at Tucuman from Buenos Ayres, as also 6 French Sisters of Charity, en route for Jujuy.

Mendoza, San Luis, and San Juan are perfectly quiet and dull; the only news being that the 'Zonda' has changed editors. From Santiago del Estero we have received the 'Norte' and 'Picaflor' to the 13th ult: the second is a literary periodical, suitable for ladies.

LATEST FROM THE GOLD-FIELDS.

In the 'Ferro-carril' of the 29th ult. we find the subjoined letter, dated San Juan, November 10th.

"I have much to say about politics, but I will postpone it till my next, and at present limit my remarks to mining matters. The gold discoveries at Castaño continue to give the most wonderful results; but, as often happens with rich mines, a number of claimants has sprung up, all at law with each other. Nevertheless Sor Salas still holds possession of the gold-claims.

"Rickard has returned from Buenos Ayres, and speculators have received fresh encouragement, as it is understood this gentleman will not only finish the amalgamating machinery and refining furnaces, but also invest in the purchase of ore. This is a splendid business for a capitalist, and anyone employing 100,000 silver dollars will make in one year at least $150,000; as most, if not all, of the miners are poor, and have to sell their metals for any price they can get.

"At Tontal they are now working 23 mines with fair profit, which give on an average 70 marks silver per cajon (3 tons), and three of them yield as much as 150 marks. The country being formerly destitute of refining factories, these metals have been hitherto conveyed to Valparaiso, with great labor, delay and expense, being sold in that port at a low figure for foreign exportation.

"The mines of La Huerta begin to shew animation. The famous mine of Sto Domingo which was abandoned during the recent wars with the Chacho owing to its situation on the frontiers of Rioja, is now working again and promises to enrich San Juan. The owners have expended $113,000 silver, but they have now in deposit 600 tons (200 cajons) of metal, which are worth at least $20,000 silver. They have also at great cost erected a refining factory, and in a short time will have reinbursed themselves for all outlay.

"A German company formed in B. Ayres is carrying out important works at La Huerta, having over 200 workmen employed. Castaño abounds in precious metals and the works have remained completely paralyzed owing to Rickard's absence, but now they will be re-commenced with increased energy.

"The Government title, granted on payment of $20 per annum for each claim, is unfortunately an obstacle to the free development of this industry. According to mining laws, any claim abandoned for 4 months may be 'denounced' and taken by any fresh claimant. Hence it follows that mines actually working give good returns, but some of the best claims are held by persons unable to work them yet who keep possession by paying annually $20. It would be a great gain if this title were abolished, and all mines not working left open for intending miners.

"Some corgoes of metal have been lately brought from Salado, and on being refined gave 73 marks per cajon: this mine is very extensive and abounds in rich metals. In Guayaguas several productive mines are at work, and the metal is disposed of in Cordoba with excellent results,

"All our splendid mining prospects are damped by the difficulties of our tribunals which are unable to adjucate in the questions that arise, and we axiously look for the Federal Judge so long promised but who seems never likely to come.

"Of late there is great talk about a valuable silver mine discovered at San Guillermo in the north of this province, on the road to Copiapó, but as I have not learned details I will postpone any further remarks till my next."

NEWS FROM THE PACIFIC.

PERU UNDER FRENCH PROTECTION.

The mails from Mendoza bring dates from Peru to October 15th, and Santiago (Chile) to November 1st.

The Peruvian Ministry has been again turned out, and a new Cabinet formed. Over six months having elapsed since the seizure of the Chincha Islands, it would seem all hope of forcible recovery of them is abandoned. A motion was made in Congress to place the Republic under protection of Napoleon III., and only one speaker (Sr. Sanchez) opposed it: he is the new Minister of Government.

On the 15th October the Continental Congress held a session at Lima, 7 representatives assisting, but it was admitted that if Spanish reinforcements arrived, no armed opposition could be made to Spain. The old frigate Callao is being armed, and when ready for sea the Peruvian fleet will count 78 guns: Pinzon's vessels have 202 guns, and M'Mahon's 150, making a formidable total.

On the death of General Flores in Equador, the President (Garcia Mereno) took the field in person against the rebels under Gen. Urbina, the former making his head-quarters at Machalá, near Guayaquil, and the latter in the mountains of Loja. Meantime the revolt spread through the Republic, and a large force was despatched by the Peruvian Government to aid the rebels and overturn the "traitor" President.

The Bolivian Congress has passed two laws: 1st, that Bolivia will never recognise other than a Republic in Mexico: 2nd, to offer every assistance to Peru for the recovery of the Chincha Islands.

Chile is progressing, in the enjoyment of peace. It is resolved to refuse coal to the Spanish war-vessels. On the 15th Nov. D. José Tastarria was to leave overland for Buenos Ayres, as Chilian plenipotentiary, his secretary having already gone around the Horn. Several Chilian officers will shortly start for England to bring out vessels there building for the Government. A decree is passed, calling for proposals to make a railway from San Fernando to Curicó, and another from Chillan to Concepcion and Talcahuano. There is talk of a change of Ministry at Santiago, and the removal of the Governor of Valparaiso.

DEATH OF GENERAL FLORES.

DISPERSION OF HIS FOLLOWERS.

Great sensation was caused yesterday by the arrival of the steamer at Guayaquil, with her flag half-mast high, General Flores having died on the passage from Jambell to Puna, from an affection in the bladder. The Government of Ecuador has lost its best supporter, and the army of Flores dispersed on the approach of the rebels.
—Letter from Payta, Oct. 10th,

NORTHERN RAILWAY OF B. AYRES

It always gives us pleasure to chronicle anything in the shape of progress which tends to develop this great country of infinite resources: every step in commercial progress more than equals the discovery of a gold mine, however productive, and tends in a more solid and permanent form to bring riches and civilization to every member of the Argentine family.

Yesterday the Tigre was honored by a visit from our go-ahead National Premier Dr. Rawson, accompanied by his brother, Messrs. Mansilla, Artiaga, the untiring Managing Director of the Northern Railway, Henry Zimmerman, Esq.; J. C. Simpson, Esq; the company's Resident Engineer, and Harry Simpson, Esq., the General Superintendent. The party started from the Retiro station by special train, which left at 7-15, and arrived at San Fernando at 7 39¾ a.m.. making the run in 24¾ minutes—pressure of steam at starting 120lb, and arriving with the same. The party on leaving the train took one of Don Guillermo's fast "brakes," started from the San Fernando station at 7.55, and arrived at the Tigre at 8.15, making the run in 20 minutes; the party then took a turn on the new extension, where the rails are being laid down with the greatest despatch; afterwards a minute examination was made of the Tigre station (which is already nearly up to the roof) and the site of the proposed mole, the first pile of which will be home before the end of the work; the party then took a boat and rowed to the mouth of the Tigre, proceeding down the Lujan as far as the Capitan, taking soundings on the way; although a short one, the visit was most satisfactory, both as regards business and pleasure. Ever and anon some of the party could not refrain from interspersing expressions of delight at the beauty of the graceful willow and the gaudy 'sebo,' in their grave remarks on the best means of facilitating the growth of commerce, which no doubt will result from the accommodation about to be given to the public by the extension of the Northern line to the Tigre.

On landing the party drove back to San Fernando, where an impromptu breakfast was very creditably put on the table by the host of the Hotel Nacional. After doing it full justice, the party returned to the station, leaving at 11.27½, and arriving at the Retiro at 11.51½ a.m., making the return run in 25 minutes. Pressure of steam at starting, 100 lbs.; on arriving the pressure had mounted to 120 lbs.

The talented Minister expressed his entire approval of the scheme and augured that it would be one of the most successful projects yet undertaken in Buenos Ayres.

We may well and worthily say in the language of the great bard, "Look on this picture, and on this," when we remember what the Northern Railway was a year ago, and what it is to-day; when irregularities, stoppages, and breakdowns were the order of the day, whereas to-day a train arriving after the proper time is a rare occurrence. All this must be as satisfactory to the people of Buenos Ayres as it is to the Northern Company, as it clearly demonstrates the exertions made to keep pace with the rapidly progressing institutions of this Great Republic.

We hope Mr. Mills, the contractor for the extension to the Tigre, may be successful in having the line ready for the public by the first day of 1865.

FREE TRADE IN GREAT BRITAIN.

British Consulate,
Buenos Ayres, Nov. 29, 1864.

Gentlemen,—

I send you for publication the accompanying Trade Statistics, which shew, by the logical force of figures, that the result of the free trade policy of Great Britain has been a general improvement in every department of commerce, and that the diminution in the duties which form part of the system, has produced not only a benefit to the consumer, but an increase in the consumption, an increase in trade, and a corresponding addition to the revenue.

The prosperity of the nation, and a progressive improvement in the condition of the people, which are the results of this wise policy, are facts which require no comment and recommend themselves to the study of every enlightened government.

Believe me, Gentlemen,
Yours very truly,
FRANK PARISH.

Messrs. M. G. & E. T. Mulhall,
Editors of the "Standard."

Effects of the Free Trade Policy recently inaugurated in England, as indicated by its Practical Results.

Originally published in the "Moniteur" of July 23 1855, and now continued to the latest period.

I. Imports.—The official value, which amounted in 1842 to 65,200,000*l.*, had increased in 1858 to 138,100,000*l.*, or more than double.

2. Exports. (British.)—The real value of exports increased in the same time from 47.300,000*l.*, to 116,600,000*l.*, or two and a-half times as much.

3. Shipping.—The tonnage of British shipping that entered and cleared with cargoes in 1842 was 5,415,821 tons. In 1858 it was 11,114,330 tons.

The tonnage of foreign shipping increased from 1,930,983 to 7,645,631 tons.

The total tonnage therefore increased from 7,346,804 to 18,759,961 tons, or more than two and a-half times as much.

4. Customs and Excise Revenue.—The revenue from these sources amounted in 1842 to 33,542,791*l.* Between that date and 1858 taxes of Customs and Excise were repealed or reduced to the extent of no less than 11,100,000*l.* net (i.e., in excess of similar taxes imposed). If, therefore, there had been no increase from other articles, the revenue in question would only have amounted in 1858 to 22,400,000*l.*, whereas it actually produced as much as 40,087,703*l.*, or upwards of 6,500,000*l*, more than in 1842, notwithstanding the above enormous reductions.

5. National Debt.—The National Debt, which amounted in 1842 to 791,250,140*l.*, decreased continually till 1853, when it only amounted to 771, 335,801*l.* In consequence of the Russian war it had increased again to 808,000,000*l.* in 1856, but once more diminished to the extent of 3,500,000*l*, by 1858.

6. State of the Fational Finance.—In 1842 the expenditure exceeded the income by 3,979,539*l.* In the eleven years between that date and the Russian war, there were only two years when the expenditure was greater than the income. In the other nine, the surplus of income was on the average between 2.000,000*l*, and 3,000,000*l.* a year. The Russian war caused a deficiency for three years, in one of which (1855) it was as great as 21,140,000*l.* In 1858 the income again exceeded the expenditure by 1,127,657*l.*

The expenditure in '58 was 9,739,729*l.* greater than in 1842, but the income was 14,846,925*l.* greater.

7. Ship building.—The tonnage of ships built in 1842 was 129,929 tons, of which 13,716 tons were steamers. In 1858 there were built 208,080 tons, of which 53,150 tons were steamers.

8. Bank of England.—The deposits in the Bank of England at the end of 1842 amounted to 9,063,000*l.*; at the end of 1858 to 20,490,000*l.*, or much more than double. Its assets increased in the same time, from 30,890,000*l.* to 45,083,000*l.*

Effects on the Social Condition of the Public.

9. The capital of savings banks in '42 was 25,319,336*l.*; in 1858, 36,193,100*l.*, an increase of nearly one-half. This is a conclusive proof of the increased prosperity of the working classes since the introduction of Free Trade.

10. Pauperism.—In the year 1842 (ending March 1845), with an estimated population of 16,194,000, the amount expended in England and Wales for the relief of the poor was 5,208,027*l.*, being at the rate of 6s. 5¼*d*, per head. In 1858, with a population of 19,578,000, the amount expended was 5,558,689*l.*, or 5s. 8¼*d.* per head. Had the poor-rates increased in proportion to the population, they would have amounted, in the latter year, to 6,250,000*l.*

11. Crime.—the number of committals for trial in England and Wales in 1842 amounted to 31,309. In 1858, notwithstanding an increase to the population of 3,400,000, the committals had fallen off to 17,855. In the former year, 193 persons out of every 100,000 were therefore grave offenders against the law; in the latter, only 91, or less than half. It should be stated, however, that a portion of this most satisfactory diminution in the number of committals is owing to the Criminal Justice Act of 1855, which authorizes Magistrates to convict summarily in certain cases, with the consent of the prisoners—and to the Juvenile Offenders Act.

NOTES BY ERIN ON CORDOBA, &c.

Rosario, Nov. 22d, 1864.

Dear Editors,—

I have cheated the Indians this time, because I am here in Rosario safe and sound, but sick of a little fever I got from the most infernal heats of the plains of Cordova and Santa Fé.

I have been amusing myself much at Cordova balls, clubs, quintas, music in the plaza, and oh, such beauty, no where else to be seen. Dear Editors, have either of you got a soul that can worship beauty Platonically? Talk of the fair ones of Buenos Ayres—go and see the fair of Cordova! The stars of heaven are dimmed in their brightness, as they float in everlasting space, by the more than starlike eyes of the fair Cordoveans.

"Mary, Mary, queen of my soul,
Whose starlit eyes are all the light I see:
Mary, Mary, queen of my soul!"

God forgive me for writing thus, but let it pass: readers, let him or her who is without sin cast the first stone.

You will want, or at least your readers will want to hear something about Cordoba—now, I will tell you in a few words what I observed of it. On the sixth day from Rosario we came to the low, wooded hills which on all sides encircle Cordova; perhaps, in the road which we travelled the height was three hundred feet. Now what a sight opened to us! A city of 30,000 inhabitants, with a gorgeous Cathedral in its centre, and surrounded by a dozen minor sisters, including one Church of Concepcion, of the Order of Jesus. You rightly said, some weeks ago that I am of a family one of the oldest in Old Ireland, but allow me to tell you that the sons of the old families are not bigoted—they have travelled, and have observed that the King of Kings may be worshipped in diverse forms: there is no necessity for the sons of Erin to fight over the road which each thinks leads to the throne of God. Cordova, as you descend the hills from the Rosario side does indeed look lovely, placed, heaven knows why, in a hot valley of about half a league across. I sat for hours on those hills and asked myself why or for what purpose the old Spaniards placed the town here, in a pan of hills reflecting the heat. Good heavens, who but a Spaniard would have thought of making a city in such a place? when within ten leagues, there are the sierras of from a thousand to four thousand feet high, fifty leagues long, by about thirty wide, containing mines of iron, copper, silver, and the natives told me gold; marbles of every color and size that Italy cannot surpass, and "oh! Wheelwright," plenty of excellent coal, the existence of which in these mountains is only known to few persons: the coal is of no value to the Cordovese, surrounded as their city is by dense forests, which grow up as fast as they are cut down, and the climate such, that except for about a month in the year, fires are only wanted in the kitchen, where charcoal is always the best fuel. Cordova, of a cool evening, to mount the hills around thee, to look over thee to those beautiful 'sierras,' as the setting sun brings out their outlines and gives depth of color to their valleys and hills, taking in, in the same landscape, the Rio Primero, on which you nestle: would that I were a painter. If I was, others, besides the few strangers who visit thee, should know of thy charms. Queen of Central South America, 'Cordova,' besides thy natural beauties, you possess some five or six artificial gems, the work of thy sons and of the old Spaniards. I will here enumerate them. First, is the Cathedral; second, the interior of the Church of the Companions of the Order of Jesus; now (that is) the outside and the cloisters are being renovated and rebuilt after a century of decay. The next most exquisite thing in Cordova is the Pasco at one end of the town, the north-west; it is a large reservoir of pure water, some ten acres in extent, with a pretty temple in the middle, encircled by walks, seats, music, and such trees, poplars, willows, that defy the sun to touch the gay crowds who seek to walk in their shade: here in the earlier part of the evening, before the band plays in the plaza, all go to spend an hour or two—and invitations for the evenings ball or conversazione are given. This beautiful spot was the work of the Spaniards about the beginning of this century. The next things which strikes the stranger are the quintas, which taken altogether may occupy about two-thirds of a square league on the north-west side of the city. The river Primero has been impeded above the city some five miles, and a portion of its waters are brought over the whole of these gardens. Buenos Ayres, you know not what a quinta is—go to Cordova and see what irrigation can do; your horse stumbles every twenty yards in riding about those quintas, but if your neck is broken you have the satisfaction of having seen such gardens, not more than twenty or thirty acres each, that I believe on this earth cannot be surpassed; every fruit that grows either in tropical or temperate lands here flourish in a manner that would not be believed in Buenos Ayres—alfalfa is cut all the year round, seven or eight times, vegetables of all kinds grow in such abundance that they are thrown away—these quintas on the Sunday or holiday are the resort of the whole town, and a gay scene it is to wander there; the Englishman is welcome to to enter everywhere, and the best there is in the house is offered him. There is in Cordova a club, and the visitor is asked as a guest for a month, afterwards an entrance fee of two Bolivian dollars and the same amount each month; this club and the salons are the only places of reunion in Cordova after ten o'clock; billiards, cards, chess, dominos, wines and beer are much sought after in this club, and I am sorry to say that there is an inner room where the goddess of the gambler is worshipped to an extent almost unknown here in Buenos Ayres. Did you, reader, ever hear Russell sing the "Gambler's wife—the clock struck four." Such scenes are common in Cordova; each month this club gives a ball, which is attended by all the leading families in town, and it is well for the ladies of Buenos Ayres that at present it is almost impossible for their sisters of Cordova to make the journey to reach the salons of the Empire City.

The last attraction, though not the least, of Cordova, is the plaza from nine to half-past ten o'clock, when the band plays, (such as it is), but that's no matter: the young go there to see each other, caring but little about the quality of the music, but listening to soft Spanish words, spoken in tones more sweet and true ro the language of old Spain than you can now find down here. At half-past ten adieus are given, and by the moon and starlight, of the deepest blue of a Cordovese heaven, each departs for home.

On such nights as these I used to love to wander in the plaza to see the architecture of that sublime gem, the Cathedral, brought into life against the dark blue by the brightest of moonbeams. This church is without doubt the finest work of art in South America. I believe its age is not yet two hundred years: for its style, reader, you must look up the history of old Spain; you must learn what is the mixture of the Moorish with the original Gothic—go to the south of old Spain and you will see some such works. All I can say of it is, that it seems to be a chef d'œuvre of beautiful form clothed over with a mantle of the choicest lace, standing before Heaven and the world a monument of the taste, talent, and piety of those much abused banded fathers of the Cross.

The inside of this Cathedral is not nearly so fine as the particular church of the fathers, which is arched throughout, with slender pilars supporting still more slender arches; the whole church, (about the size of the Merced), gilt and painted a subdued gold color, almost a golden bronze, did not glare and glitter; like so many of the churches of this country. I think next to this interior I prefer Urquiza's Cathedral at Concepcion, Uruguay, for solemn simplicity, but in night, with the moon shining bright, to walk in the plaza and to view the handsome groups of buildings is a treat that but few places on this earth can give you.

Yours, "ERIN."

This being the last day of the month, there was a slight excess of business, but the predictions of the bears turned out false, and specie instead of falling sensibly, was extremely firm. Still, however, paper money is in the greatest demand, and unless we have bad news from Paraguay, or good news from Flores, the probabilities are that patacons will decline. Several sellers on time were short to-day and had not the gold to deliver, but the difference, in nearly every case being trifling, was paid in paper.

The wool market is very firm, and high prices are again paid. Mr. Richard Simon's wool of the Magdalena sold for $110, and a German on Mr. Newton's sold for $118; besides those, several lots were sold at 97.

We regret to say that advices from Valparaiso are most discouraging respecting jerked beef; some 2000 quintals were sold at 8 pats. to dealers in the mines, but the miners refused to eat it.

The Provincial Bank raises its rate of interest from to-day, allowing 8 for gold and 6 for paper, and charging 11 per cent per annum on both specie and paper.

The Maua Bank charges its rate of interest from December 1st; the rate will be as follows:—For specie and paper in account current allow 8, charge 15 per cent deposit; for fixed terms at conventional rates.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

No. 103 Calle de Cangallo,
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and will open a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo, from Nine a.m till Three p.m on Week Days, and on Sundays and Holidays from Ten a.m. to Twelve m., for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres, September 19, 1863.

P.p. Mauá and Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p ⅁) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars curreney, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishes, can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book, it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

ELLWOOD'S PATENT AIR-CHAMBER HATS

CAUTION.—The Patentees having established the validity of their Patent, in an action tried on the 20th and 21st days of June instant, in the Court of Common Pleas at Westminster, before Lord Chief Justice Erle and a Special Jury, in which Ellwood and another, of No. 21 Great Charlotte-st., Blackfriars Road, in the Borough of Southwark Wholesale Hat Manufacturers, were Plaintiffs; and Christy and others, of No. 35 Gracechurch-street, in the City of London, also Wholesale Hat Manufacturers, were Defendents; and the Jury having by their verdict found that the above-named Defendants had infringed the Plaintiffs' Patent, and that the invention was new in England and in India at the date of the Letters Patent—We, the above named Plaintiffs, do hereby give notice to all Manufacturers, Dealers in, and Sellers of Hats, Caps, or Helmets, that we shall proceed by suit in Chancery against all persons so manufacturing, dealing in, or selling Hats, Caps, or Helmets, constructed on the principle of "Ellwood's Patent Air Chamber Hat," unless the previous consent of the Patentees be obtained, at the same time reserving to ourselves the right of taking proceedings against prior infringers.

FOR INDIA

Dated this 24th day of June, 1864.

Rams—Rams—Rams.

The undersigned, in calling attention to his large and superior stock of Rams and Breeding Sheep, begs to inform his Friends in the Camp that he has on hands a splendid collection of animals, from Three Hundred to Five Thousand Dollars, more, and is confident that each in its class will compete with anything in the province.

In the "Rambouillet type" will be found some fine specimens of the pure blood, besides crossings from the "Mérino," possessing the size, shape, and length of staple for which this class is so much admired.

In the "Negretten" he has also some beautiful animals of pure blood, as likewise the "Negrette" drawn from the "fine Merino," a "Cria" remarkable for compact shape and close heavy wool.

In addition to the above he wishes to draw especial attention to his celebrated Argentine breed, between the "Rambouillet" and "Negrette Ewe," and which, after seven years' experience, he can fully recommend as combining a size and shape with length and weight of wool—qualities so anxiously looked for by all experienced sheep-farmers, and which have given so much satisfaction to those who have already purchased of this class. In buying the above in half three-quarter, and pure blood, already acclimatized, there is an immense advantage, as Rams reared in this country are not so delicate and with-stand the winter better than imported animals, besides being sold much cheaper, and only requiring ordinary care.

He can likewise supply the above classes in Ewes, either picked or by the hundred, and wishes to remark that all have been in prime condition throughout the past summer.

LEA & PERRINS,
CELEBRATED
WORCHESTERSHIRE SAUCE.

PRONOUNCED BY CONNOISSEURS to be the ONLY GOOD SAUCE and applicable to EVERY VARIETY of DISH

Extract of a LETTER from a MEDICAL GENTLEMAN at Madras to his Brother in WORCESTERSHIRE May, 1851.

"Tell LEA & PERRINS that their SAUCE is highly esteemed in India, and is, in my opinion, the most palatable as well as the most wholesome Sauce that is made."

SEASONABLE NOTICE.

EXTENSIVE FRAUDS.

L. AND P. having discovered that several of the Foreign Markets have been supplied with spurious IMITATIONS of their WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE, the labels of which closely resemble those of the genuine Sauce, and in one or more instances with the names of L. & P. forged; they have deemed it their duty to caution the public, and to request purchasers to see that the names of LEA & PERRINS are upon the "Wrapper, Label, Stopper and Bottle."

L. & P. further give notice that they will proceed against any one who may infringe upon their right, either by manufacturing or vending such imitations, and have instructed their correspondents in various parts of the world, to advise them of such infringements.
